Student Membership

The Student Membership program is designed to cater to individuals who are currently engaged in internship-based training within the field of information technology (IT). This program specifically targets participants undergoing IT trainer training, spanning across four distinct levels. The initial two tiers of training are tailored to O-Level and A-Level participants, nurturing them for potential roles as Vocational IT Trainers. Progressing further, the B-Level and C-Level stages pave the way for participants to become Professional IT Trainers.

The training program for IT trainers encompasses various specialized domains, which are as follows: a) Computer Applications, Programming, Web and Mobile Application Development, and Software Development. b) PC Hardware, Networking, Information System Security and Cyber Security. c) Digital Media, Art, Graphic Designing, Audio-Video Editing, Visual Effects (VFX), and 3D Animation. d) Digital Marketing. e) Data Science.

The prime benefits of student membership are as follow:

Essential Resources

The primary objective of the student membership initiative is to provide a comprehensive platform that furnishes the essential resources required to successfully complete training across different levels and domains. These resources encompass a range of elements, such as Computer-Based Training (CBT) modules, training notes, online tutorials, quizzes and examinations, access to mentors and coaches, detailed training statistics, participation reports, participation in events and workshops, engaging online sessions, informative newsletters, and more.

Store Access and Updates

Furthermore, student members are granted access to exclusive items on an e-commerce platform, available at special discounted rates. This helps enrich their learning experience by offering supplementary materials that align with their training journey. Additionally, student members are kept informed about a multitude of workshops, events, and expos that extend beyond the confines of their standard curriculum, broadening their exposure to the industry.

Student Membership Fee

Participation in the student membership program entails an annual membership fee, which is subject to variation based on the corresponding training level. As participants progress through the different tiers, the fee structure adjusts accordingly, reflecting the increasing depth and complexity of the training. This ensures that the program remains accessible and relevant to the evolving needs of each student member.
